2. Mr. Proctor said that as a follow-up to his session with Senate staffers on DDO reporting he is assembling examples of reports based on DDO sources. Some of the military reporting is very sensitive and procedures for handling it are yet to be worked out.

3. There has been an especially heavy flow of FOIA requests including several asking for all materials given to the Rockefeller Commission. A working group has been assigned the task of going through these documents to determine what is releasable.

4. Mr. Eisenbeiss said he had asked his people to begin marking the classification of each paragraph of finished intelligence reports. Mr. Proctor said he thinks such markings should be confined to record copies and that each office should keep a record copy sourced by paragraph.
